

WHAT'S HAPPENING AT ULI MN

The Real Estate Diversity Initiative (REDI) Launches and UrbanPlan Expands

In January, ULI Minnesota launched the Real Estate Diversity Initiative (REDI) aimed at empowering professionals of color and women working in real estate and land use to make the next step in their careers. This spring, ULI Minnesota's successful UrbanPlan program will expand to a third school, Apple Valley's School of Environmental Studies, taking on an additional 200 high school students!

REDI and UrbanPlan offer volunteers and participants the opportunity to make transformational impacts on their professions and communities, and we need your help to continue to make them successful! Learn more about sponsorship opportunities below. SPONSOR REDI! SPONSOR UrbanPlan!

Climate Change: From Skeptic to Believer with Meteorologist Paul Douglas

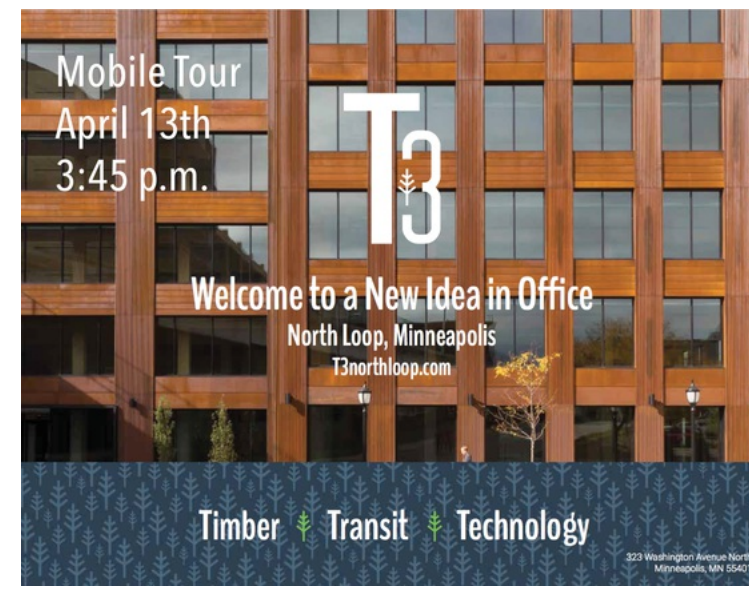

With a long career on TV and radio, meteorologist Paul Douglas is familiar to many Minnesotans. But do you know the rest of his story? At this special joint session of the Regional Council of Mayors and the ULI MN Advisory Board, Mr. Douglas will share his journey as he moved from climate change skeptic to accepting the science as well as market-based solutions to the challenge of a warmer and more volatile climate.

WHERE IN THE WORLD IS ULI MN?

Eliza Clark Wins Environmental Initiative's Emerging Leader Award

ULI Minnesota congratulates member Eliza Clark on winning the 2017 Emerging Leader award from the Environmental Initiative. The award recognizes an individual under the age of 40 who has not only been influential, but who also values collaboration to reach solutions. The Environmental Initiative is a nonprofit that builds partnerships to develop collaborative solutions to Minnesota's environmental problems.
